Vichy Fate in Balance

Otto Abetz (above) Hitler's Paris representative, has been dispatched to Vichy, seat of the French Government, to confer with Marshal Philippe Petain on the appointment as Foreign Minister of M. Pierre-Étienne Flandin. Mr. Laval, the former Foreign Minister, was reported in many quarters as far too willing to agree to all of Hitler's demands.

LOCALS

The Board of Trade are holding their next dance on Friday, January 24th, instead of the 31st as had been planned, when music will be supplied by Ken Moore.

After a week of weather registering around zero, and sometimes below, a welcome chinook arrived Wednesday evening. Today, Thursday, is like a spring day—no doubt there is plenty of winter ahead.

It was announced yesterday that C. I. S. Yers, 41-year-old farmer of Meeting Creek, Alberta, has been chosen by the Social Credit party to contest the Camrose by-election on Feb. 6th.

The nineteen Independent members of the Alberta legislature are meeting in Edmonton on Saturday next to organize for the coming session which is expected to open on February 20th, and to elect a House leader.

Word was received today, Thursday, of the death of Mrs. Marston, Senior, which took place in Calgary. It will be remembered that the Marston home-steaded west of town. Funeral services will be held in the United Church here on Sunday at 2:30. Rev. W. Hollingsworth of Calgary officiating, assisted by Rev. H. V. Ellison. Interment will be in Crossfield cemetery.

ALBERTA OIL FIELDS RANK HIGH.

Due to Alberta's Turner Valley, Canada now ranks second as an oil producer in the British Empire and 13th in the world, it was stated recently in a survey of oil and gas production. Canada's yield—which outside of Alberta is very small—was exceeded in the Empire only by Trinidad and the West Indies during 1940.

Albanian Front

Greeks report tightening of trap in the Tepeleni-Kilaura sector (1), capture of a village near Gramos (2), and entry in coastal sector in drive past Chima (3).

The Italians Saw the Point

Modern "observers" and "experts" scoffed at bayonet training for this war, but the rout of the crack Italian armies in Albania is largely due to the fact that their troops are unable to face Greek bayonet charges. Time and again hand-to-hand fighting has been reported during the Greek advance and always the Italians fell back in disorder when the long sword bayonets of the Greeks flashed before them. Above is a typical Greek soldier with his long bayonet ready for action.

STEWART — BRANDON

The home of Mr. and Mrs. William Brandon, southwest of Crossfield, was the scene of a pretty ceremony on Monday evening, January 6th, when their daughter, Mildred Elizabeth, and Mr. Merrill Vincent Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Stewart of Airdrie, were united in marriage.

Rev. H. V. Ellison performed the ceremony in the presence of a group of relatives and friends.

Miss Lila Brandon, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid and Albert Douglas Clayton of Airdrie was best man.

After the ceremony a dainty supper was served. Rev. H. V. Ellison proposed a toast to the bride, which was graciously responded to by the groom.

The happy couple left for a short honeymoon at Banff and on their return will reside in Airdrie.

Mrs. E. Buterman Dies

Mrs. Gerrit Diana Buterman, wife of Egbert Buterman, died at her farm home on Sunday, January 5th, at the age of 67. She was born in Weirden, Ontario in the Netherlands.

Coming to Canada 25 years ago with her husband and family, they lived in Medicine Hat for ten years before taking a farm south of Crossfield where they have lived since.

Besides her sorrowing husband, she is survived by seven sons, Otto and Albert of Kimberley, B. C., John of Barmis, Alta., Eugene of Carbon, Gerrit with the Engineers, overseas, Henry in Calgary and Tony of Crossfield, and three daughters, Mrs. J. Jolliffe of Medicine Hat, Mrs. F. Adams of Crossfield and Johanna of Calgary.

Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. H. V. Ellison in the United Church at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon when a large number of neighbors and friends gathered to pay their last respects. Pallbearers were James Thompson, D. J. Hall, Sam Kelly, J. Aldred, J. Vackul and G. V. Hupkes. Interment was in the Crossfield cemetery.

Gravely Ill

Joseph Sirois

Who presided over the Rowell-Sirois Commission on Dominion-Provincial relations and who not long ago was appointed president of Canada's first Unemployment Insurance Commission was reported gravely ill at his home in Quebec. He is 58.

Recommend Adoption Rowell-Sirois Report.

Last Saturday the Northern Alberta Bond Holders' Protective Committee submitted to Premier Aberhart a resolution urging the provincial government to give "sympathetic consideration" to the Rowell-Sirois recommendations to solve provincial debt problems. The resolution claimed payment of reduced interest on provincial bonds has caused severe "hardship" on many bond and saving certificate holders "of small means whose life savings" are invested in Alberta securities.

Implementation of the Rowell-Sirois recommendations would result in payment of full interest "subject to refunding", assure the payment of savings certificates and restore to Alberta the credit necessary for solution of the housing problem, the building of much-needed schools and, in general, to the whole future development of the province. The resolution claimed

HOCKEY

The High School hockey team journeyed to Didsbury Tuesday evening for an exhibition game, going down to defeat in a 6-3 score.

They will play their first league game in Innisfail on Friday night.

The first home game in the league series will be played next Tuesday evening against Carstairs. Come out and support the local boys.

MISS VIOLA KINSEY CARNIVAL QUEEN

Though the extreme cold on Saturday night interfered with attendance, a very good crowd was on hand to enjoy the first ice carnival of the year, under the auspices of the Senior Group C.G.I.T. Following races for boys and girls of various ages which were entered into with enthusiasm, dancing and skating were engaged in. The most popular spot of the evening was the refreshment booth where the steaming coffee and hot dogs proved very inviting.

Miss Viola Kinsey was the successful candidate in the vote for queen and was duly crowned the Queen of the Carnival.

THE SIROIS REPORT

The Sirois report commission, set up in August 1937, on Dominion-Provincial Relations have compiled a wealth of knowledge in their two-year investigation of affairs in the nine provinces.

Abridgment of the commission's recommendations are for the Dominion government to take over the entire debt of each province, with optional courses for future provincial borrowing.

Assume the entire liability of the dead weight (that is, the non-interest bearing) debt, and administer the balance, subject to the annual payment of the province of a sum equal to the annual interest received by the province.

Accept complete responsibility of the relief and care of unemployed, leaving poor relief in the proper sense of that term, to the provinces (including the municipalities), thus relieving the budgets of both provinces and municipalities of heavy annual charges.

Replace the present subsidies to the provinces by National adjustment grants (irreducible, but capable of enlargement following inquiry) to enable a provincial government to balance its budget, after maintaining its social services at an average standard.

Provide provision for emergency grants if made necessary by abnormal conditions—taking care of adverse harvest conditions in Western Canada.

The provinces would withdraw from certain fields of taxation, designated by the commission as National.

A big percent of those who have made a thorough study of the report are of the opinion that it should be accepted and put into operation.

SUEDE HOG CALF

New Leather Produced By British Research

The world has now a new shoe leather discovered by technicians and chemists in the English Midlands.

The leather, suede hog calf, gives the particular 'feel' and appearance of peccary hog which, for a number of years, has been popular for gloves its silken touch made it unsuitable for shoes and after many experiments the new leather which is stronger and harder wearing, has been produced.

Shoes made from it are now being shown in the latest shades, Congo brown, powder blue, Varsity green, desert tan, Californian beige and new vintage. The favorite style is a whole cut semi-sport shoe with pastel shade pipings, and fittings and a sole of crepe.

MY TOWN

My town is a place where my home is situated; where my vote is cast; where my children are educated; where my life is chiefly lived. It is the home spot for me. My town has a right to my civic loyalty. It supports me and I must support it. My town wants my friendship, not partisanship; friendliness, not offensiveness; co-operation, not dissension; sympathy, not criticism; my intelligent support, not indifference. My town supplies me with law and order, trade, friends, education, morals, recreation and the rights of a freeborn citizen. I should believe in my town and work for it.

THE END OF HENRY BANKS Warning To Motorists

(By William Philip Rowley)

Just gather 'round, my friends, and hear the tale of Henry Banks; He loved to beat the trains at grades and other silly pranks, He'd skitter on the slippery roads, or pass cars on the hills;

When he came tearing down the street, pedestrians made their wills. He drove his car so recklessly with easy nonchalance;

In everything he'd flirt with Death, and take an awful chance.

At crossings he would beat the trains and give a jeering toot; For tempers of the engineers, he never gave a hoot.

But Death caught up with him one day, and it was just his fate The train that he had meant to beat was fifteen minutes late,

And it was making up lost time, and thundered down the track, With twenty cars behind it and the thick smoke pouring black.

Said Henry then: "To beat this train 'twill be no hard attempt".

For common sense and safety, he had nothing but contempt. So down he drove his shining car at eighty miles per hour;

His auto surely had the speed—the train, though, had the power.

And there upon the tracks they met; poor Henry had no chance; He flirted once too oft with Death, and Fortune turned her glance. With screeching brakes the train slowed down upon the trackway tar With part of Henry on the stack, and part within his car.

And how to put him back again, to all was quite a sticker; He tried to save a minute here — to hell he got the quicker, And so from off the roadway clear, a reckless fool was driven; He made no use of common sense that had to him been given.

So if you think to break the laws, take heed, don't be a dunce: You can beat the train a hundred times—it need beat you ONLY ONCE!

The Standard Parachute

Parachutes have played a big part in the present war. Not to speak of what they have done for so-called "parachute troops", we may think of the hundreds of aviators who have been saved by them. With a plane burning, or in some other way made unfit for flying, the pilot and anyone else aboard may leap out and reset the ground safely.

Parachutes differ in size, so we cannot give figures which will fit all of them. Recently a standard British parachute was described as having "65 square yards of finest silk" and measuring 24 feet across. The cost was given as about $200. for each parachute.

COUPON SYSTEM DISCONTINUED.

The coupon system under which farmers obtained fuel oil at rebate prices has been discontinued, and commencing January 1st a new method of coloring fuel oil went into effect. Announcing the change, Hon. E. C. Manning said the new system would do away with the cumbersome coupon system and would permit bona fide users of fuel oil to obtain supplies on payment of one cent tax, less the rebate from ordinary retail prices.

HOW THE SOLDIER'S SALUTE ORIGINATED

At tournaments in olden days, knights used to march past Royalty. When passing by the Queen they would put a hand up to their face in pretence of hiding their eyes from her dazzling beauty. From that to the modern salute was a simple stage.

The office boy entered the editor's office and said: "There's a tramp outside who says he hasn't had anything to eat for six days."

"Bring him in," said the editor. "If we can find out how he does it we can run this paper a while longer."

MOULDS IN FOOD

Mould growth in foods is not usually dangerous. In many cases the formation of mould in foods increases its palatability. For example some kinds of cheese, such as Limburger, Roquefort, Brie and Camembert, are eaten only after extensive mould growth has taken place. The characteristic flavour and smell of these cheeses are due to the substances formed by the particular species of mould.

What are moulds? They are groups of tiny plants so small that the individual structures can be seen only with the aid of a microscope. They develop from spores which are similar to the seeds of the higher plants. The spore is the reproductive element of one of the lower organisms or plants.

The commoner moulds go by the names of Mucor, Penicillium or Aspergillus. The white or slightly woolly patches seen on the surface of meat in cold storage is due to a mould or fungus known as the sporotrichum carnis.

The spores or seeds of moulds are hard to kill; they can withstand unfavorable conditions for days and when given favorable conditions such as food, a temperature neither too hot nor too cold, moisture and in some cases oxygen, will live for a long time.

Mould on top of jams, jellies and preserves is unsightly, but not harmful and the same is true of moulds on bread and other foods. Mould growth may be prevented by

"No Opposition Encountered"

The British Navy Wednesday and Thursday directed a terrific blow at (3) Valona, in the Strait of Otranto, just inside the entrance to the Adriatic. Hundreds of high explosive shells were hurled into the port without any opposition from the enemy. While part of the fleet was bombarding Valona, other British battleships swept the strait between (1) Bari and (2) Durazzo.

An Italian communique acknowledges R. A. F. bombardment of the Adriatic port of Brindisi.

A writer who arrived recently at New York from France, said German soldiers in Paris have been denied mail from home because some committed suicide when letters informed them that relatives had been killed in British bombing raids.

Premier John Metaxas of Greece in a message sent to Nicola Terzpis, Greek consul general in Canada, expressed his thanks to the Canadians for their contributions to the Greek War Relief Fund.

A newspaper in Vichy, France, said the population of Orleans, in German occupied France, had been fined 1,000,000 francs after a German army telephone wire was cut.

In a move perhaps intended to bolster Italian morale, it was announced that crown princess Marie Jose of Italy has joined the Fascist party 'at her own request'. It was announced her membership would be considered as dated 1935.

Mrs Amy Johnson Mollison, the famed British aviatrix, was drowned in the Thames estuary on Sunday before rescue ships could reach her, after being forced to bail out of the aircraft she was flying for the Air Transport Auxiliary.

Lord Baden-Powell, aged 83, founder of the Boy Scout movement, died at his home in Nyeri, Kenya Colony, Africa, on Wednesday, January 8. He will be buried Thursday afternoon with full military honors.

Independents Approve Rowell-Sirois Report.

At a recent convention of the Independent M.L.A.'s held in Edmonton, a resolution was forwarded to prime Minister King. A letter accompanied the resolution explaining to the Prime Minister "that Premier Aberhart's opposition to the Rowell-Sirois report does not represent the view of most Albertans, as the last provincial election showed that more votes were cast for opposition candidates.

Many Alberta organizations are in favor of the Rowell-Sirois recommendations. They believe that if this report is accepted and put into operation it will be of the greatest benefit to the province.

There was to be a christening party at the home of a farmer. "Excuse me," said the minister, taking his host aside before the ceremony, "but are you prepared for the solemn event?" "Oh, yes, indeed," said the farmer. "I've got two hams, pickles, cakes —" "No, no! I mean spiritually prepared." "Well, I think so; two gallons of whiskey, a case of gin, and three sacks of beer."
